

Certificate in Graphology

Want to learn the secret of handwriting analysis?
Interested in learning how to change a person's personality through handwriting?
Interested in venturing your career as a handwriting consultant?

Introduction

A person's handwriting is as unique as their fingerprints and facial features. Even identical twins have slight differences. A trained graphologist can assess the personality of the writer — not only the way he wishes to be seen, his public face or persona, but also the inner person as he is, the ego. We produce a portrait of ourselves as we conduct this workshop and will train you to translate this picture into a description of the personality of the writer.
